Joliet's Neighborhood Newsletter

Is welcomed with great success!

The City of Joliet, in partnership with the University of Illinois extension office updated the cooperative "Neighborhood Newsletter" with a new layout, organization and distribution in June, 2010.

The newsletter continues to cater to encouraging community involvement and acting as a positive resource for region specific households in the city. The new layout designed by Joliet based J.V. Murphy and Associates streamlined the information in a user friendly format. In addition, the increased newsletter distribution now enables a reach of over 14,000 households/postal customers within the identified area, providing valuable information on Joliet activities, programs and household tips to a larger market.

The Newsletter has received multiple compliments including satisfied homeowners and grateful recipients who have been previously unaware of this valuable resource. The Joliet "Neighborhood Newsletter" is a print publication distributed by the University of Illinois Extension Office on a quarterly basis to the community. To view the current copy of the "Neighborhood Newsletter", visit www.cityofjoliet.info

The "Neighborhood Newsletter" works to provide residents with information on City of Joliet Housing Programs, City of Joliet Ordinances, Neighborhood Association Meetings, and updates on special programs and events throughout the city. The newsletter is coordinated by the University of Illinois Extension Office. Community groups wishing to post information in the next edition of the "Neighborhood Newsletter" can contact Nancy Kuhajda at the Will County Extension Office 815.727.9296 kuhajda@illinois.edu. Submissions will be included and evaluated on a case by case basis.
