YORK AVENUE PARKING LOT TEMPORARY ENTRANCE OPEN
BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 17, 2014

As part of the Union Pacific Railroad’s work on the Heritage Corridor railroad tracks and bridges near the Joliet Gateway Center transportation campus, a new retaining wall will be constructed along the west side of the York Avenue commuter parking lot. As a safety measure, the north portion of the lot and entrance will be closed beginning Wednesday, September 17, 2014. A temporary entrance has been constructed at the middle of the lot. Commuters are still welcome to park in the southern portion of the lot during construction activities.

Drivers should exercise caution and pedestrians are advised use the sidewalk on York Avenue to access the pay station. Once construction of the new retaining wall is completed this temporary entrance will be removed and the north entrance reopened.
